ACTIVITY: PP&TP-GCPC-1 (23-24) GREATER CHOICES FOR AT HOME PALLIATIVE CARE

Activity Priorities and Description

PROGRAM KEY PRIORITY AREA

Palliative care

AIM OF ACTIVITY

To use identified needs, available technologies, networking, education, training and resource support, to improve palliative care and end of life care at home service capability, responsiveness, access, safety, coordination, collaboration and stakeholder awareness in the WQPHN region.

DESCRIPTION OF ACTIVITY

WQPHN will retain one full-time Palliative Care Coordinator to coordinate the funded palliative care support activity.

WQPHN will continue to seek to recruit a 0.8 FTE Palliative Care Project Officer to support delivery of the funded palliative care support activities.

WQPHN will engage palliative care consultants and other relevant services to support achieve the objectives of the palliative care funding.

Palliative care capacity building, awareness raising and support activities to be delivered include:

- coordinating a Remote Palliative Care Steering Network that provides a platform for information sharing, collaboration and integration
- maintain the Outback Palliative Care Community of Practice (CoP) across all health and community support sectors of the region to respond to local education and networking needs
- enabling access to education and training already existing in the region and available via National Palliative Care Projects, for example a series on bereavement education & linkage to PEPA/IPEPA & PallConsult
- promoting existing available palliative care information and resources to service providers and the community, for example a community leaders palliative care awareness campaign with General Practice to increased awareness and access to information & maintaining a dedicated palliative care webpage on the WQPHN site
- facilitating linkages to state-wide palliative care resources, programs, services, for example via membership grants with palliative care peak bodies
- utilising targeted consultant support to address identified needs and gaps in palliative care service provision, for example deliver a remote palliative care symposium with practical learning and networking workshops
- review and support palliative care referral pathways and promote and increased uptake of referral processes, for example via the HealthPathways program
- enhancing awareness of advance care planning to community and health care service providers
- narrative and media campaign to promote a dialogue on palliative care and increased awareness

Activities will have consistency & continuity where-ever appropriate to meet the "whole of region" requirements but are flexibly designed to adapt to the unique and individual community needs within WQPHN localities, inclusive of cultural considerations and geographical contexts.

Activities will be reviewed and evaluated to ensure value and desired goals with adjustments made to activities as necessary.

Ongoing data collection and program evaluation will be undertaken in alignment with the GCfAHPC National Evaluation by PwC.

WQPHN will exploring opportunities to address data constraints experienced by service providers.
